STANDING REWARD OF $50.

I WILL PAY TO THE PARTY PROCURING a conviction, fifty dollars, upon the conviction of each and every one of any of the criminals who have been breaking down my fences

Learning by Experience.
As we look at young men and women just entering consciously the world of self directed activity it seems easy to advise them. The desire to do so is often irresistible, and justly so. We must say to them from our own experience the words that ought to help them avoid the mistakes that we have made and to hold that the blessings that we have let slip. Yet they must live their own lives, and of all we can ever say they can use only that which really belongs to them and has become a part of their own minds and wills.—Christian Register.

In a Bad Way.
"Worse than usual," was the reply in tones of the deepest sympathy. "Very much worse than usual, poor fellow!"
"Are you sure of that?"
"Certain. I recently had my salary reduced, and I can't lend him nearly as much as I used to."—Washington Star.

Dog Extremes.
There are dogs standing over three feet high at the shoulder, measuring nearly seven feet from the nose to the tip of the tail and weighing so much as 300 pounds, and at the other end of the scale the little Mexican lap dog is under seven inches in length from nose to tail tip and weighs only a few ounces.

It is considered that Japanese men are among the best needleworkers in the world, their only equals being the women of Russia.

Pitger—I always pay as I go.
Dickson—No wonder, then, that people are unwilling to accommodate you. Why, I always keep my tailor at least one suit of clothes behind, and then, when I pay him, in addition to allowing me a good stiff discount, he invariably gives me a box of cigars. You're too tight for this world.—Cleveland

FRENCH JOURNALS.

Most of the French journals have a sale of 50,000 copies, where bulletins are displayed and a mass of relics of the paper is kept. French journalism is much more personal in regard to its literary composition than that of England or America. A large proportion of the articles are signed with the names of the writers, even when the work is more or less of a routine nature, such as the sporting or law departments of the paper. On the other hand, the ownership of newspapers is less frequently lodged in single hands than is the case in America. Very many of the French papers are owned by companies or associations, while the stock of several of the best known, such as Le Figaro and Le Petit Journal, is bought and sold daily on the Stock Exchange, the quotations appearing as regularly as those of railway shares or Government bonds.

The circulation of all but a very few of the Paris papers varies enormously, according to the contents. If a paper contains a striking article, well advertised previously, or if its feuilleton, continued story or memoirs, which most of the French journals consider an essential part of their daily issue, is by some well known author, the circulation will run up 50,000 or 100,000 in a week and drop again as soon as the special feature is discontinued. When Le Jour began publishing M. Henri Rochefort's memoirs, its circulation went up fivefold, although the price of the paper had been doubled in order to make hay while the sun shone.

The French press is much more concentrated in the capital than that of other European countries. In Germany, for instance, it is not the press of Berlin that has the largest circulation or the greatest influence. In this, as in many other matters, however, the French press only bears out the saying that "Paris is France."—Chautauquan.

NEW PUNCTUATION MARK.

"I shall be famous, I have an idea that will send my name thundering down through the ages," remarked the copy reader.
"Humph!" replied the humorist. "It will be the first idea you have ever had. You spend most of your time destroying the good ideas of others."

"Well, that may be, although you never have any idea to destroy, seeing that you get these which you have from Joe Miller's jokebook and the old almanacs."

"Oh, well, let's have your idea!"
"To tell the truth, it was suggested to me by you."

"All I thought as much, and yet you say—"

"What is it?"
"I have invented a punctuation mark for humor. It is intended to show the reader where to laugh. In olden times, you know, the point of the joke used to be printed in italics. Nowadays there is no way to show the point, and, as many of the jokes, such as yours, have no point, it is impossible to print the point in italics. Now, I suggest that a punctuation mark be placed at the beginning and at the end of everything supposed to be funny, so that the reader may be prepared to laugh when he begins to read and know when he has reached the point and it is time to laugh. I would suggest that the mark be two little squares placed above the line, and I shall call it by my name. What do you think of that for an idea? It was suggested by your stuff, as I told you."

But the humorist had given the copy reader a look of scorn and had vanished.—Chicago Times-Herald.

The Dark is Better Than the White For an Active Person.

Mrs. S. T. Rorer, in The Ladies' Home Journal, contends that there has not been a sufficiently accurate analysis upon which to base any table regarding the chemical composition of fish at all reliable. "The albuminoid matter in white fish, as cod, haddock and halibut, is in about the same proportion as in beef and mutton. They contain, however, more phosphorus—the active fish, such as trout and pickerel, containing a still greater amount, due no doubt to their activity. The amount of carbon depends largely upon the amount of fat they contain. The whitefish are, therefore, deficient in carbon. If you should ask an intelligent cook what vegetable to serve with a boiled white fish she would answer quickly, potatoes, as they supply the wanting carbohydrates."
"There are other kinds of fish, however, such as salmon, catfish and sturgeon, that are quite well supplied with carbohydrates, in consequence of which they are not so easily digested as the white fish. The more oil they have dispersed through the body, the more difficult the digestion. In the white fish the fat is held in the liver; in the dark fish it is dispersed through the entire flesh. From this fact we learn that dark fish make a much better diet for the active man. Many authorities affirm that the more active fish, as well as the more active animals, give better muscle making food than their more indolent relations."

THE TRIUMPH OF LOVE?

Happy and Fruitful Marriage.

Every MAN who would know the GRAND TRUTHS, the Plain Facts, the Old Secrets and the New Discoveries of Medical Sciences applied to Married Life, who would also for past follies and avoid future pitfalls, should write for our wonderful little book, called "Complete Manhood and How to Attain It." No earnest man will read one copy without being a changed man.
ERIE MEDICAL CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

The chair made vacant by death is always a sad reminder. It is especially sad when it is mother's chair. All over this broad land there are vacant chairs that would still be occupied by healthy, happy, contented mothers if women would but realize the importance of keeping well in a womanly way. Women cannot too soon understand that it is little less than a crime to neglect the health of the organs to which are intrusted the perpetuation of a healthy, robust race of human beings. By neglect of these organs a woman ruins her own health, destroys the happiness of her home, and falls in the performance of the most sublime duty that she owes to the world.

The best medicine for women who are weak where Nature demands the most strength is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly upon the organs that make motherhood possible. It cures all weakness and disease that exists there and stops all distressing debilitating drains. It prepares a woman for motherhood and insures a healthy baby. It makes the coming of baby easy and almost painless. Druggists who offer something "just as good" are either ignorant or dishonest and in either case are not to be trusted.

"I had been a great sufferer for years with female weakness," writes Mrs. John Downie, of No. 24 Lexington Ave., Edgewood, New York, Co., Pa. "I could not walk three squares without terrible suffering. I also had a pain in my left side for several years. I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, Favorite Prescription and Pleasant Pellets. My pain has left me altogether. Have had no symptoms of it at a time and it does not hurt me. I cannot recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines highly enough. My daughter also has used your medicines with great benefit. She was operated upon for appendicitis and had fainting spells from it. She took the Golden Medical Discovery, Favorite Prescription, 'Extract of Smart-Weed,' and the Pleasant Pellets and has not had any fainting spells for one year. When she commenced to take it she weighed 55 pounds now she weighs 140 pounds."

Constipation! It is the fountain-head of many diseases. It causes impure blood and all manner of disorders are the result. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Promptly. Surely. Permanently. They never gripe. Druggists sell them.

Star Distances.

Great interest has been created in astronomical circles by some of the results reached by Professor Simon Newcomb in his more recent investigations. One of these is that astronomers have been overestimating the distances of the stars and the other that our universe has, after all, a fairly well defined limit. The first of these conclusions Professor Newcomb bases on an idea that the stars which are called the smaller ones because they are less bright may not be large stars at a very great distance, but perhaps smaller or dimmer ones nearer at hand. The old idea is familiar to all—namely, that all the stars are of the same brightness and that the fainter ones are at a very much greater distance from us than the brighter ones. This theory, however, has been weakened by later discoveries, such as, for example, that Sirius has a companion whose light, if equal surfaces be considered, is but a fraction of that of its principal, and as astronomers have come to recognize dim stars as being nearer, like the companions of Algol, about which so much has lately been written, to be quite as common perhaps in the universe as the bright ones. Professor Newcomb's proposition as to the limits of the universe is regarded as even more novel and striking, suggesting, as it does, the possibility that some day all the stars will be seen.—New York Sun.

Sources of Gutta Serena.

Gutta serena, like India rubber, is obtained from the juices of certain trees and climbers. The best is produced by a tree, the Sonchandra gutta, of the order Sapotaceae, which formerly abounded at Singapore and in all Malaysia, but which now tends to disappear under the ravages committed by gatherers. Gutta, in Malay, signifies gum or lime; percha signifies scrap. Incisions are made in the bark, as on rubber trees, and the liquor flows of perfect whiteness, darkening at contact of air. Coagulation takes place spontaneously in a short time. Like rubber, the liquid forms a film on top. This cream is removed, kneaded into a large lump and plunged into boiling water. Under the action of a high temperature it softens and forms the cake usually found in commerce. Other trees in Malaysia and further India, in Cambodia and Cochinchina, produce good gutta.

In Hindustan different grades are mixed by the natives. Chinese merchants, in their depots, mix and manipulate to give a good superficial appearance to the product, as the price is constantly advancing. As the gatherers also do not scruple to add vegetable debris, earth or sand, it has become difficult to secure a pure article. An inferior quality is obtained from trees and climbers in Africa and Madagascar, and, with the development of these sources, more may be expected.

Appointed Court Reporter.

Miss Hallie Williams has been appointed court reporter for Yolo county, Cal., by Judge Gaddis. She passed a very satisfactory examination, surpassing the requirements of the law, which provides that the reporter must write 150 words a minute and read them back. She succeeded in writing 173 words a minute for five consecutive minutes and read them without the slightest hesitation.

Reasons for Advertisements.

It is claimed, says the Philadelphia Press, that the women are the only readers of advertisements. In a measure this is true, and necessarily so, for women are the larger purchasers for the household and spend most of the money that is earned by business, professional and working men.

Even in the larger transactions it will probably surprise dealers to learn how influential a voice women have. The purchase of a home is almost invariably determined by the women of the household, and in nine cases out of ten their information as to the situation and desirability of a purchase is gained from the newspapers.

And every furniture dealer, dry goods dealer, groceryman and keeper of any sort of a store knows that he must appeal to the women if he wishes to sell his goods. One of the largest elements in the success of one of the greatest merchants in the world today is the fact that he knows how to appeal attractively through the advertisement to the woman.—Fourth Estate.

A Bible Sled.

A friend of the Listener saw a funny sight down in Maine. At a place there, which needn't be named, there lives a small boy named Jonathan Longfellow, who is a third or fourth cousin of the poet, and he is a great boy too. One day this friend of the Listener was driving past young Jonathan's house and saw the boy engaged at a little distance in sliding down hill on the slippery crust on something that was not a sled. What could it be? Evidently the scrutiny of the passerby was observed by the boy, for he stopped his coasting and called out amiably, "I'm sliding down hill on the Bible." And it was the fact too. He had got the smooth, leather bound family Bible, containing the generations of all the Longfellow, and was coasting on it with magnificent success.—Boston Transcript.

Sorosis' New President.

Peace and good will characterized the recent Sorosis election. Mary Lyon Dame Hall was unanimously elected president. The rest of the ticket elected was as follows: First vice president, Mrs. Dimick T. S. Denison; second vice president, Mrs. E. Louise Demorest; third vice president, Mrs. Margaret T. Yardeley; chairman of the executive committee, Mrs. Christine J. Highley; first member of executive committee, Mrs. Keron S. Warner; second member of executive committee, Mrs. Susan K. Bourner; third member of executive committee, Mrs. Elizabeth Howard Childs; fourth member of executive committee, Mrs. Alice Mary Scudder; recording secretary, Mary Mason Greeley; corresponding secretary, Emma V. Townsend; assistant corresponding secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Aull Stump; treasurer, Mrs. Catherine G. Peete; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Minnie S. Stinson; and auditor, Mrs. C. C. Clifton.

The retiring president, Mrs. Tod Helms, in her farewell address to her sisters, dwelt upon the honor conferred by the title of president of Sorosis. "Sorosis is very dear to me," she said finally. "I love every member of it."

Mrs. Hall, who will hold the office of president for the next two years, with a possible extension of four years, is a native of Portland, Me. She modestly disclaims any accomplishments other than those that belong to the ordinary woman of culture. However, she was a graduate of the Mount Holyoke seminary and was named after its founder, Mary Lyon. Before her marriage Mrs. Hall was the principal of a high school at Scranton, Pa., and instructress at a college in Honolulu.—New York Journal

A Practical Prima Donna.

"Do you think," asked the young man who was preparing some interviews with great people on trivial topics, "that a light opera singer should marry if she is really and truly ambitious to succeed in her art?"

The queen of burlesque stopped reading what her press agent had written long enough to respond:

"Surely, sir, you cannot be serious. If we didn't marry, how could the papers say any thing about our divorces?"—Washington Star.

THE MINING OUTLOOK.

The mining outlook in Nevada is seemingly brighter than for some years past. As there is very little inducement to develop silver mines, owing to the low price of their product, attention has been principally directed to gold mining. Important discoveries of gold quartz and placers have been made in the eastern part of the State. These discoveries are attracting attention to Nevada, and may result in developing rich and extensive gold mines.

In the early days of Nevada very little attention was paid to gold bearing quartz and still less to auriferous gravel. The idea prevailed that only silver mines, or mines in which silver predominated, existed in Nevada. Laboring under that delusion the prospectors paid no attention to gold-bearing quartz and scoffed at the idea of finding paying placer mines east of the Sierra Nevada. Subsequent developments have shown the fallacy of this theory, and to-day it is an established fact that both quartz and placer claims containing gold in paying quantities abound in the State.

The Comstock and Eureka mines, though both are classed as silver mines, are producing ores to-day which are fully as valuable for the gold which they contain as they are for silver. The Chairman and Joanna mines at Ely carry more gold than silver. The De Lamar mines in Lincoln county are worked exclusively for gold. The new mines at Gold Creek contain very little silver, and the mines at Tuscarora, on which work has been resumed are more valuable for gold than for silver. There are several mines in Esmeralda county which are worked for gold, and the Buckeye and Pine Nut mines in Douglas county are known to be rich in gold. Near Washoe City there are the Harris and Smith mines in which gold predominates, and north of Reno, near the California line, gold quartz has been found in places in paying quantities, and the new discoveries near Wadsworth are exclusively gold bearing. In Humboldt county several gold bearing leads are being developed, some of which have paid handsomely, and in addition a copper mine is being opened near Golconda, which it is thought will equal in extent and productiveness the celebrated Anaconda mine of Montana. There are also gold mines in Lander county east of Battle Mountain which have been worked to a considerable extent.

These gold discoveries merely indicate the possibilities of Nevada as a producer of the yellow metal. As gold was not sought for by the prospector in this State until recently the gold quartz and placer claims which have been located were merely accidental or incidental to the search for silver mines. Now that it is known that gold exists throughout the State and that search for the precious metal in the mountains and ravines is likely to be rewarded it would not be surprising if rich gold discoveries were made in various parts of the State during the present season, and it is within the range of probabilities that Nevada may be as noted for its extensive gold and copper mines in a few years as it has been in the past for its silver bonanzas. That the State is rich in mineral resources there is no doubt. That its mountains have not yet been prospected is also indisputable, and that rich gold, silver and copper mines yet await the industrious and adventurous prospector in Nevada is as certain as that day follows night.

IT LOOKS BAD FOR GREECE.

Though Greece has had the best of the fighting in some minor encounters with the Turks in the last few days, the Moslems are the most numerous and best organized of the two combatants. The Turks are in the ascendancy and the stampede of the Greeks at Larissa has discouraged those at home, as well as those in the field. The Greek ships, of which much was expected, as they are more modern and better equipped than those of the Sultan, have accomplished very little, and the Turk is already dreaming of the hour, when Greece, her knee in supplication bent, shall tremble at his power, and his dream of the outcome is in accord with the prevalent opinion in London.

It is generally understood that neither Greece nor Turkey will be permitted, whichever way the battle goes, to change its boundaries or acquire any more territory. There is little, therefore, to fight for, though possibly, if Greece should be the victor, it would be permitted to acquire the island of Crete, which, though under Mohammedan rule, is principally peopled by Christians, who detest their Turkish oppressors.

Possibly if the war continues, and the Greeks recover from their reverses, Russia which is closely allied to the Greeks in religion, may take a hand, with a view of getting an outlet through the Dardanelles to the Mediterranean, but that would probably involve Europe in a general war, and that the money kings do not desire at present.

It is therefore, probable that the powers will stop the useless struggle of the Greeks at the earliest possible moment, and that Crete will be turned over to the merciless Turk, as it was before the late insurrection in that island, as the bondholders must be appeased, regardless of consequences to Crete or Armenia. Greece will be compelled to pay a heavy indemnity, but her territory will doubtless be kept intact.

The Industrial Army has broken up and scattered. Leffingwell, the leader, deserted, and a man named Corbett was elected, but he soon followed Leffingwell. It is probable that the ignominious failure of this crowd to accomplish anything and its subsequent disorganization, will stop any further demonstration of this character, at least on such a large scale. Many of the members are worse than disgraced, as they found it much harder rustling with a large crowd than they anticipated, and the weaker and less experienced ones were made to suffer by those better posted and who had "hit the road" before.

Sacramento stood out well against the horde and did a great favor to the interior or mountain towns by its positive action in refusing aid and checking the advance of the army. Had the Industrials succeeded in working Sacramento, the interior towns would have been over run with them long before this.

WAR NEWS.

The Dingley Bill Reported to the Senate.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The tariff bill was reported to the Senate to-day. The sugar schedule is as follows: Sugar not above No. 16, Dutch standard in color, tank bottoms, syrups, cane juice and best melada, concentrated melada, concrete and concentrated molasses, tested by the polariscope above 87 and not above 88 degrees and 79-100, one cent per pound, and for every additional degree shown by polariscope test of 2-100ths, one cent per pound, and fractions of a degree in proportion. Sugar above No. 16, Dutch standard in color, and sugar that has gone through the process of refining, 1 and 16-100ths of one cent per pound, and in addition thereto, on all of the foregoing, 35 percentum ad valorem. Sugar not above No. 16, Dutch standard in color, tank bottoms, syrups, cane juice and best juice melada, concentrated molasses, testing by the polariscope not more than 87 degrees, 75 per cent ad valorem.

The restrictive clauses of the Dingley bill is stricken from the Senate bill. The entire House provision relating to reciprocity is stricken out, and sections substituted, providing that whenever a country shall pay a bounty upon the exportation of any article of merchandise and dutiable under this act, then upon the importation of any such article into the United States, there shall be levied upon it, in addition to the duty imposed by this act, duty equal to the net amount of such bounty to be ascertained by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The House provision keeping in force the Hawaiian reciprocity treaty is stricken out, the effect being indirectly to abrogate the treaty and impose the same duty on Hawaiian sugars as on sugars from other countries.

The provision of the House bill on distilled wines is stricken out, and the following substituted: Still wines in casks, if containing 14 per cent or less of absolute alcohol, 30 cents a gallon. If containing more than 14 per cent of absolute alcohol, 50 cents a gallon. In bottles or jugs, per case of a dozen, containing each not more than a quart and more than a pint, or of 24 bottles or jugs, containing each not more than a pint, a dollar per case.

Many important changes were made in wool and the woolen schedule. First class wools were reduced from 11 cents a pound to 8 cents, and second class wools from 12 to 9.

Duties on wools of the third class were raised. The dividing line of a class was placed at 10 cents value, wools under that value being made dutiable at 4 cents a pound instead of at 32 per cent ad valorem, as in the House bill. Wools valued at more than 10 cents a pound were placed at 7 cents a pound instead of 50 per cent ad valorem.

The new tariff bill raises the duty on oranges, lemons and citrus fruits from 3 1/2 to one per cent per pound, and reduces prunes, raisins, plums and dried grapes from 2 1/2 to 2 cents. Cattle valued less than $10 a head are dutiable at $4 a head, and over $10 at $6.

King George Charged With Speculating on the War.

ATHENS, May 4.—A dispatch from Phalaros says: The Turks avoided making any further attack upon Valentin, contenting themselves with reconnoitering the neighborhood places. The Greeks, it is announced, occupy strong positions, which enable them to repulse superior forces.

PARIS, May 4.—The Gilias says that the King of Greece used the crisis in the affairs of his country to speculate in Greek and Turkish bonds, and cleared 30,000,000 to 35,000,000 francs.

ANTA, May 4.—This afternoon a force of 8,000 Greeks, commanded by Colonel Bairachbaria, while advancing on Pongiparta, was engaged by the Turks. The battle is now in progress.

A large proportion of the articles are signed with the names of the writers, even when the work is more or less of a routine nature, such as the sporting or law departments of the paper. On the other hand, the ownership of newspapers is less frequently located in single hands than is the case in America.

The circulation of all but a very few of the Paris papers varies enormously, according to the contents. If a paper contains a striking article, well advertised previously, or if its feuilleton, continued story or memoirs, which most of the French journals consider an essential part of their daily issue, is by some well known author, the circulation will run up 50,000 or 100,000 in a week and drop again as soon as the special feature is discontinued. When Le Jour began publishing M. Henri Rochefort's memoirs, its circulation went up five-fold, although the price of the paper had been doubled in order to make hay while the sun shone.

The French press is much more concentrated in the capital than that of other European countries. In Germany, for instance, it is not the press of Berlin that has the largest circulation or the greatest influence. In this, as in many other matters, however, the French press only bears out the saying that "Paris is France."—Chantaguan.

NEW PUNCTUATION MARK.

"I shall be famous. I have an idea that will send my name thundering down through the ages," remarked the copy reader.

"Humph!" replied the humorist. "It will be the first idea you have ever had. You spend most of your time destroying the good ideas of others."

"Well, that may be, although you never have any idea to destroy, seeing that you get those which you have from Joe Miller's jokebook and the old almanacs."

"Oh, well, let's have your idea!"

"To tell the truth, it was suggested to me by you."

"Ah! I thought as much, and yet you say—"

"What is it?"

"I have invented a punctuation mark for humor. It is intended to show the reader where to laugh. In olden times, you know, the point of the joke used to be printed in italics. Nowadays there is no way to show the point, and, as many of the jokes, such as yours, have no point, it is impossible to print the point in italics. Now, I suggest that a punctuation mark be placed at the beginning and at the end of everything supposed to be funny, so that the reader may be prepared to laugh when he begins to read and know when he has reached the point and it is time to laugh. I would suggest that the mark be two little squares placed above the line, and I shall call it by my name. What do you think of that for an idea? It was suggested by your stuff, as I told you."

But the humorist had given the copy reader a look of scorn and had vanished.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Miss Kate Mayberry arrived from Sierra Valley last evening. Miss Mayberry has charge of a school in the valley.

The monthly payroll for the Comstock mines amounts to $85,703 91. This is $5,000 more than it was last month.

Pierce Evans, now city attorney of Phoenix, wants to be U. S. District Attorney of Arizona. Hope the old boy will get it.

Read the Nevada Hardware and Supply Company's new ad. Farming tools, machinery and hardware of every description.

The Reno Mercantile Company has just received a large line of crockery, glass and agateware that is being offered at lowest prices.

Donnels & Steinmetz are agents for the new Wheeler & Wilson ball bearing sewing machines, which they sell at San Francisco prices. Don't fail to see them.

Donnels & Steinmetz have a splendid line of carpets, floor rugs and matings which they are offering at prices astonishingly low, also window shades of all kinds.

Go to Henry Riter's and get a glass of sparkling mineral water from the Peavine springs. He prepares all of the latest summer drinks and can please the most fastidious.

A street light is needed badly at the Pavilion corner, the entrance to Chinatown. It would be of great help to the officers, and might serve to prevent many students from visiting the tenderloin district.

A sale of fifty shares of Bank of Nevada stock at $70 per share was made yesterday by Matt Healy to E. Cohn. As a dividend of $8 per share was also declared yesterday the actual price to the purchaser was $78.

Mr. Sims, the editor of the Gold Creek News, has written a book called "An Expectant Millionaire," which is now on the press and will soon be on the stands. It is needless to say that it will contain much that will give a good impression of Nevada, and we rather suspect that was the whole object of its publication.

Read Wm. Pinniger's new ad. in today's issue. He carries a stock that comprises everything in the drug line, and having had years of experience as a pharmacist knows every detail of the business. In toilet articles, perfumery, drug novelties, etc., his line cannot be beaten. Seeds of all kinds is a specialty and can be furnished in any quantity. Remember Pinniger's drug store.

Governor Adams of Colorado has issued a proclamation forbidding the importation of sheep into or through his State, coming from Washington, Oregon, Montana, Idaho and several other States, including Nevada, except upon the certificate of the State Veterinary Board or its duly authorized inspector. The certificate must show that the sheep are free from scab or other infectious contagions.

The ninth convention of the Transmississippi Congress will be held at Salt Lake City July 14th next. The objects of the Congress are to secure such national legislation as is calculated to promote the business interests and development of the resources of the States and Territories lying west of the Mississippi river; to increase reciprocal trade among them; to discuss such questions as are naturally suggested by its objects; to cultivate acquaintance, fraternal feeling and hearty co-operation among the various commercial bodies represented.

It is the desire of the committee to confine discussion to those subjects which are of common interest to the sections of country represented, and to exclude all subjects which are local or political.

While questions germane to the objects of the Congress may be introduced by any delegate, the following are suggested by the Executive Committee:

The Transmississippi International Exposition; the Nicaragua Canal; the Hawaiian question; irrigation; the cession of arid lands to the State; immigration to the Western States; restriction of immigration; Japanese competition; the disposition of public lands; restoration of the homestead policy; admission of Territories to Statehood; agricultural interests; the culture of ramie; beet sugar industry; export of breadstuffs to China and Japan; preservation of forests; national bankrupt law; rail and water communication with the seaboard; prevention of damage by floods; our trade with Mexico.

BASES OF REPRESENTATION.

The Governor of each State or Territory may appoint ten delegates; the mayor of each city one delegate, and an additional delegate for each 5,000 inhabitants, but no city shall have more than ten delegates; each county one delegate, through its executive officer.

Governor Sadler has appointed the following delegates and it is to be hoped that each and all of them can make it convenient to attend the Congress, as much good may result therefrom:

A. O. Cleveland of White Pine, Judge Massey of Elko, B. F. Leete of Washoe, H. Springmeyer of Douglas, D. C. Simpson of Lyon, James Nesbitt of Lincoln, M. Reinhart of Humboldt, J. A. Miller of Lander, J. A. Yerlington of Ormsby and W. E. Sharon of Storey.

The Salt Lake people are making preparations to entertain the delegates during their visit to the city and it is expected that there will be a large attendance from the States and Territories west of the Mississippi.

Opposed to Municipal Ownership.

The proposition to have the municipal ownership of a water plant examined into by a committee of fifty citizens at Oakland to be appointed by Mayor Thomas, has fallen through for the time being because the Fire and Water Committee of the Council refused to ask the Mayor to make the appointment.

When the Central Committee came to consider the resolution which requested Mayor Thomas to appoint the committee of fifty he was at liberty to do so, but the Council would not ask him to. This decision was reached at a meeting recently held when Councilmen Henneberry, Cuvelier, Rowe and Upton were present.

"The Mayor can appoint the committee if he wishes," said Councilman Rowe. "I see no reason why the Council should ask him to do anything of the kind."

"I do not believe in the municipal ownership of water works," said Cuvelier. "I do not believe in the municipal ownership of anything that interferes with legitimate business, enterprise and competition. I do not believe in a paternal form of government. I think that private ownership of lights, water works and telephones is the best thing for the people. After a while we will come to the municipal ownership of dry goods stores if this thing keeps up. I am willing to allow the Mayor to appoint his committee, and if they ask for the use of the Council Chamber I would favor giving it to them."

Chairman Henneberry had something to say in the same tenor, and then the resolution that Mr. Henneberry had signed and introduced was filed away.

Mayor Thomas said that under the circumstances he would not appoint the committee.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness, yield to Electric Bitters. Fifty cents and $1 per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

The Honey Mortgage Case.

The case of the Government against the Honey mortgages, is attracting considerable attention in Carson. The evidence is developing the fact of some strange transactions in which all parties in the case figure to some extent. The case will be argued next Saturday.

BASEBALL.

An Important Meeting Held Last Evening.

The baseball players and enthusiasts of the Comstock held a meeting last evening, which was enthusiastically attended. Plans for the Comstock ball league were discussed, and the outlook is encouraging. The grounds near the C. & O. hoisting works are to be fixed up in a suitable condition to play ball on. This is assured, as already 150 names are signed to the subscription list which for the past week has been going around. Allen Kinkead was chosen President and general manager, and Geo Hatch, Treasurer. Phil O'Rourke is to have the management of the players in the field. Mr. Hatch is to have the supervision of the grounds and see that they are fixed up in first class style.

Correspondence is being held with Reno, Carson and Winnemucca and two games have been arranged—one next Sunday with Carson, and with Reno on the 15th.

A meeting to organize a State league will be called this week.—Enterprise.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamonddale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store. Regular size, 50 cts. and $1.

Bank of Nevada Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Nevada was held yesterday and resulted in the election of the old Board of Directors with the exception of Henry Anderson in place of B. R. Bigelow. A dividend of $3 per share was declared, equivalent to $9,000. The sum of $10,000 was carried to surplus fund; $1,000 written off the building and $500 off the furniture; the remainder of the earnings for the year was ordered carried to undivided profit account, the amount being about $1,000. The officers were elected for the ensuing year last night.

Society Address Cards.

The JOURNAL is in receipt of the Milton H. Smith, Rochester, N. Y., catalogue of society address cards. It is a work of art, and probably the finest catalogue of fraternal and other society cards ever turned out. Parties desiring anything in this line or other designs, such as wedding invitations or cards, class programs, visiting cards, can make a splendid selection of the latest fads by calling at the JOURNAL office and looking at the catalogue.

For a New Bell.

The teachers and pupils of the public school have determined to provide a new bell for the High School building and to carry out the idea it is intended to give a school entertainment in which talent will be selected from each room, so that each department will have its share in the purchase of the bell. A splendid program will be arranged and full particulars will be announced. The date of the entertainment has been fixed for Friday evening May 29th.

Local Talent Going Abroad.

Manager Piper has billed "The Ensign" at Virginia for the 8th, inst. The play will be presented by Reno talent, and the company will carry a large quantity of scenery especially adapted to the play.

The University band and quartette will accompany the party.

The JOURNAL can assure the amateur stock that the company although amateurs rank well with professionals.

To Make an Oyster Cocktail.

An oyster cocktail is made by putting into a glass half a dozen tiny little oysters, to which add a few drops of tobacco, a pinch of salt, a teaspoonful of Worcester's sauce, a teaspoonful of tomato ketchup and a teaspoonful of lemon juice.—Ladies' Home Journal.

General Assembly.

There will be General Assembly in Assembly Hall to-day (Wednesday) at 11:40 A. M. A special feature of the exercises will be readings by Miss Ella Bender of Carson. Music by the Cadet Band. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

Grand Representatives.

Amity Lodge No. 8, Knights of Pythias, elected the following representatives to the Grand Lodge last evening: H. B. Rula, J. O. Sessions, W. McNeilly, W. H. McInnis, Sol. Levy, J. F. Aitken, S. J. Hodgkinson.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The swing train starts on its first run for the season this morning. It will leave at 6:15 A. M. and arrive at Truckee at 11:20 A. M., not returning here at 11:20 as was published by mistake a few days ago.

Read Mrs. A. E. Brewer's ad. in the 50-cent column. Business and spiritual meeting, gives advice on various subjects and consultations on mising, disease diagnosed. Mrs. Brewer also gives massage treatment to ladies' faces, removes skin affections, wrinkles, etc. She also applies a skin food that softens and beautifies the skin, removing roughness caused by wind, dust, etc. The lady comes to Reno very highly recommended. She can be found at the Wagar House, corner Plaza and Lake streets.

Ante-Partum Clothing.

Ante-partum clothing was not out to fit, as is our modern clothing. Having no definite shape of its own, it did not disguise the woman's figure, and the grace and beauty of Greek drapery are dependent almost entirely on the perfect proportions of the figure beneath. The tunic worn by both Greeks and Romans was little, if at all, fitted to the wearer, and, when ungirded, hung in folds all round, while the toga was little more than a sheet and was worn in all sorts of ways according to the prevailing fashion. The Jews of old seem to have worn breeches, but the rest of their clothing seems to have been simply wrapped round them, for it was difficult for them to run or even walk fast without first "girding up their loins." The clothing of the northern races was probably always more of a fit than that of the southern, for they used leather, which does not lend itself to simple drapery, but our ancestors probably wore an almost shapeless tunic belted at the waist. Another striking difference is found in the gradual monopoly by women of the ornamental element in dress. Once masculine dress was by far the most splendid, and woman, holding an exclusively subordinate social position, had to content herself with humbler attire. As she has won her way to freedom and equality she has annexed, not only the beautiful, but the extravagant elements of costume and left man to content himself with a coalition of color and utility.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Spectrum of a Star.

A late circular issued from the Harvard college observatory includes in its account of the most important recent discoveries the spectrum of a star known as Zeta Puppis, its remarkable character being unlike that of any other yet observed. The continuous spectrum containing those systems of lines—first, the dark hydrogen lines, such as are found in stars of the first type; second, two bright bands or lines, which may be identified with the adjacent lines in spectra of the fifth type, and, third, a series of very faint lines. But the most important feature of this spectrum is a new element not found on the earth or in any other star, an element which, though similar to hydrogen, is yet distinctly different from it. Just what it is or by what name to call it astronomers are undecided, the marked peculiarity being noted that it produces a vibration systematic rather than accidental of three-hundred millionths of a millimeter and the action of which can be traced only on a specially prepared photographic plate. Another extraordinary discovery noted is a new variable star in the constellation Crux, with a period of about a year.

Had to Admit It.

"Do you mean to tell this jury," roared the lawyer, "that you never spoke to the accused and yet know him to be an actor?"

"That's what, for he wore a fur trimmed overcoat, low shoes and white cotton socks."

"We admit, your honor, that the prisoner at the bar is a tragedian."—Detroit Free Press

The most extensive wine cellar in the world is owned by the Roumanian government. A railway tunnel 2,600 feet long between Galtz and Barboch could not be used for railroad purposes because of inferior construction. Its cost was nearly 4,000,000 francs. It was leased to a wine dealer, who has turned it into an immense wine cellar.

The 5,000 horsepower pumping engine in the mines at Friendsville, Pa., raises 17,500 gallons of water at each revolution of the gigantic flywheel.

A Burst of Activity.

The Turk, as a rule, is not energetic, but he is capable of sudden bursts of activity. A writer in Cassell's Family Magazine gives an illustration:

He was going home late one night in Constantinople, when a man ran by him, pursued by four zaptehs. Directly they caught the man they belabored him vigorously with the butt ends of their guns. The Englishman interferred:

"If he is a thief, why not take him to prison and let him be tried properly? Don't half kill the man without a trial."

"O offendu," said the spokesman of the party, "we don't mind his being a thief. We're only hitting him because of the trouble he gave us to run after him." And that is an offense which the average Turk never forgives.

The Charge of a Bull.

As soon as I could steady myself I gave the best contents of both barrels, but they seemed to have little effect on him. The four hounds were tearing at his heels, and he was kicking, pawing and plunging like an Australian buck jumper. In reloading I got hold of the wrong cartridges, and while I was fumbling about for stray ones in my pockets the bull partially recovered his eyesight and came at me. I jumped behind a tree, and the bull struck it such a blow with his immense forehead that I wonder he was not stunned. The tree had far too great a girth even to be shaken. He then tried to get round, and I dodged him, and one of the largest hounds sprang and pinned him by the nose. How he did bellow, to be sure. But the mighty beast, with a toss of his head, sent the dog flying through the air, leaving a portion of the cartilage of his nostrils in the tenacious jaws of the hound. Just then I found a solitary cartridge, and with the muzzle all but touching him, I fired behind the shoulder, which sickened him, and he sought refuge in flight. But the good hounds stuck to him. I ran to where the express was lying, picked it up, and had no difficulty in giving the great bull his quietus.—"Fifty Years in India," by Colonel Pollock.

The Instinct of Birds.

Some wonderful facts concerning the instincts of birds are narrated by a writer in The Popular Science Monthly. The oriole, for example, has a fondness for bright colors, and yet prudence leads the little creature, in building his nest, to select the least conspicuous hues. He also shows architectural skill in attaching a string to his hanging nest and fastening it securely, by a number of turns and a knot, to a branch above, in order to prevent the weight of the young brood from breaking the branch from which the nest is suspended. Is not this a good deal like buttressing a weak wall? Birds also show a progressive spirit. Formerly the tailor birds of East India used to stitch the leaves of their nests together with fine grass or horse-hair. Since the introduction of British manufactures they use sewing thread and ravelings from cloths. In the districts in Switzerland where watches are made the wagtails have learned to build their nests of fine steel shavings. Sparrows, which usually build in chimneys or under roofs, if forced to construct their nests in trees or any unsheltered spot, usually cover them with a sort of hood to keep out the rain.

Golf a la Kafir.

An intelligent Hindoo has been heard to define billiards as a game in which two men, armed with long sticks, poke at a ball, while one player says, "Oh!" and the other "Hard lines."

Golf seems to have similarly impressed the native South African mind. A Kafir warrior was observed attentively watching the efforts of certain unskillful players to extract their ball from one of those deep bunkers which greatly abound on African courses. The following day this same Kafir was seen to be belaboring a great boulder with a huge pole and shouting "Hang it!" the while.

The story has the merit of being true. All golf stories are.—Pearson's Weekly

Men and Women Diners.

Women as diners out are rarely sought after. At a conventional dinner party they are present in numbers equal to matching the men guests, but in selecting the couples the hostess usually asks her women for their beauty, toilet or because they happen to be wives of the men she desires—very seldom for any individual quality they possess, not more than one of the sex in 500 ever being able to meet the requirements laid down for men. One reason for this is their incapacity to disguise their utter indifference to stories and anecdotes.—New York World

Java's Population.

Java is very thickly populated, and cultivation is pushed to an extraordinary distance up the steep slopes of the hills. The plain of Leles in the month of July "is one sea of ripe golden rice, with here and there a village of brown thatched roofs nestling in a group of green coconut trees." In the middle of the island white chimneys of sugar mills peep above miles and miles of sugar cane fields.

The Telephone Worked.

According to a Kentucky paper, when the telephone was first introduced in that state an old farmer who did not exactly understand the working of the invention bought a new pair of boots for his son, who lived down in Texas. He hung the footwear across the wire at sundown one evening. During the night some one took the boots and placed a pair of old ones across the wire. Next morning the old gentleman went out and, to his delight, he saw the old boots. He hastened into the house, exclaiming to his wife: "Say, Sal, this here telephone is the best thing yet. John got his boots last night, and I'm blasted if he didn't send the old ones home!"

A Checkered Career.

In the recent sweep of the Bois de Boulogne for disreputable characters a tramp with a strange history was taken. He had been a sailor and master of a sailing vessel, had undertaken to explore Abyssinia and had ended by becoming chief cook to King Menelik. He grew homesick, however, made his escape, and on reaching France had been unable to find work.

Western Australia's supply of jarrah and karri, the hard woods used for street pavements, is practically inexhaustible. The jarrah (Eucalyptus marginata) covers 14,000 square miles of the country and the karri (E. diversicolor) 2,000 square miles more.
